RAZE BAZIANI-KÖRBER

Press- and Policy Advisor for Lars Castellucci, MP and Federal Government Commissioner for Human Rights Policy and Humanitarian Assistance

Raze Baziani-Körber is press- and policy advisor for Lars Castellucci, Member of the German Bundestag and Federal Government Commissioner for Human Rights Policy and Humanitarian Assistance. She previously held several roles, most recently at the European Parliament in Brussels. Passionate about human rights, Raze has twice spoken as an expert at the United Nations Forum on Minority Issues in Geneva. She has also gained hands-on experience in the field. During the ISIS offensive, she volunteered in refugee camps in Iraqi Kurdistan and, more recently, traveled to Ukraine twice to support students during the war. Outside of her work, Raze connects people and perspectives as co-lead of the MENA working group at the German Council on Foreign Relations (DGAP) and as Fellows Relations Chair of the Atlantik Brücke's New Bridge Program. Raze holds a degree in law and master's degrees in sustainable development and global political economy.
